Koi basics for first-time visitors

Koi are ornamental carp, bred for color and pattern. At a show, judges look at body shape, skin quality, color, pattern and overall presence.

Each fish is entered in a variety and size class. Walk the show floor, pick your favorites, and use the People's Choice tool in the visitor page to vote for the fish you like best.

Please keep your hands out of the water, and ask a volunteer if you would like a fish netted for a closer look.